MISS SOMERVILLE would respectfully announce to the Citizens of Savannah that she will receive pupils in music. Terms: $12.00 per quarter. Applications may be left at the store of Messrs. Stiles & Hardy, May 6, 1874. 3v

STILES & HARDY ain't got any money to loan, nor ain't rich enough to sell goods on credit; but they can do the other thing, viz: to-wit, namely: they can and do sell goods very low, and say they can afford to sell goods lower for cash than anybody can on credit.

FROM an occasional correspondent we learn that on Sunday, the 3d inst., Elder Jacob Wood baptized six happy converts in the One-hundred-and-two at Holekew, by which they were made members of the Baptist Church of that place. On Sunday last, Elder Renan baptized thirty-four in the Platte, west of Guilford, Nodaway county, who were formed into a new church, holding meetings at the Whiteford school-house. Several of these were heads of families, and all of the Christian church.

The following paragraph, written for another town, would be particularly applicable to some of our own citizens:

If some of our "full-fisted" and large lot owners of this place would take some pride and a little more interest in forwarding things along, and see that a new corner could have a shelter to cover himself and family at a reasonable rent, and when wishing to build, sell property at a figure that would induce him to stay, and by that means encourage others to come, how much more prosperous would our little burg be, and the population doubling itself yearly. As it is now there is not a vacant house or room in town, and if an individual wishes to build, the price asked for lots are enormous and the result is discouragement to new comers.

NOTICE is given to the public generally that John J. Miller, northeast of the Square, has received a large and complete supply of spring goods—latest styles—consisting of ready-made clothing, hats, caps, boots and shoes, gents' furnishing goods, &c. It is of the celebrated George Woods manufacture, and gives great satisfaction, being the finest organ in the city.

STILES & HARDY ain't got any money to loan, nor ain't rich enough to sell goods on credit; but they can do the other thing, viz: to-wit, namely: they can and do sell goods very low, and say they can afford to sell goods lower for cash than anybody can on credit.

Everybody!

There is not the slightest doubt but that if any one will take a few moments' leisure and call at J. B. Russell's brown front south side dry goods and grocery store, that he can show you something you really want and can't buy cheaper anywhere in the West. Just try it once, and see how true it is.

IMPROVEMENTS.

Some of the Buildings, &c., Completed, in Progress, and to be Built in Savannah.

There are not a few improvements going forward in Savannah; in fact, things look more promising in that respect than we have seen in the past two years.

W. B. Howard, proprietor of the Savannah Nursery and the South Side Meat Shop, has erected a large and commodious frame business house on the lot next east of the Post-office, and taking the place of one of the oldest "landmarks" in town. The dimensions of the building are 26 feet front by 40 feet deep. There are two front rooms down stairs—one 25x16, and to be used as the meat market proper, and one 25 x10 feet, to be used as an office—in the rear of each are rooms 15x16 and 15x10 respectively. A spacious stairway leads from a hall on the east side of the building to a hall upstairs, which extends to the rear of the building, where stairs lead to the rear of the building. Two good rooms are entered from the hall up stairs. A handsome awning covers the sidewalk in front, and the improvement is a material one. Work on the inside of the building is progressing rapidly, and Mr. Howard will open out his store again by two weeks from Monday next, if not earlier. Mr. Howard deserves credit for his enterprise.

Mr. Wm. Cook has erected a convenient barn on his premises opposite the Seminary. The building proper is twenty-two feet square, but the roof extends down beyond so as to make a shed on each side, making the space covered by the roof 22x39 feet.

E. W. Joy has fitted up a warehouse for receiving and shipping tobacco, in the building once occupied as a carpenter shop, near the old depot. He is now busy filling hogsheads with the narcotic weed, and wants to build up a good trade at this point. Those who have tobacco for sale or contemplate raising it should give him a call.

Dr. Wakefield has repaired and fitted up the building next door west of Stiles & Hardy's, and is occupying it as his office. A step in the right direction.

The foot-bridge over Plaquemine creek, on Fourth street, ordered by the City Council last year, has just recently been built. It is quite an accommodation to the citizens of northeast Savannah.

The Farmers' Bank has had a sign painted on the east and west side of their handsome building. They don't hide their light under a bushel.

Mr. J. B. Beams has given his house a coat of paint.

Messrs. Carson and Hardy have let the contract for the building of their business house and hall, to Mr. Leebetter, and it is understood work will be commenced on it next week. Its total cost will probably be over $7,000.

Mr. F. Becker is building a fine residence on the old Owen property, which he has purchased. The dwelling will be two stories high, the main building 20 x38, feet with an L kitchen 16x16. Three large rooms, hall and closet are provided for on both floors. The location for a residence is a fine one.

An old "eyesore," northwest of the square, has been torn down by J. W. Grabill, Esq., who recently purchased the property, and it is proposed to erect in its stead a neat frame building of two stories, the lower story of which will be used by him as a law office; the upper story to rent. The size of the building will be 16x26.

The house in which Mr. C. W. Hale resides has been treated to a brand new roof.

The law office of Judge Heren, west of the square, heretofore referred to, has been completed and is now occupied by the Judge.

W. W. Caldwell, Esq., has enlarged his house room, the addition improving his residence in several respects.

Joseph Austin built a new residence in Webster's addition (nearly opposite Dr. Cruikshank's) early this spring. It is two stories high, containing, we believe, four or five rooms.

W. B. Martindale, Esq., is building a handsome eight-room dwelling at the corner of Sixth and Chestnut streets, the dimensions of which we did not obtain.

Captain William D. Clark has purchased a lot in Webster's addition, and will build a house thereon immediately.

Fire at Whitesville.

On Wednesday evening, the 6th, a fire was seen in a new building lately erected by Wm. Daum as a residence and store house, and burnt it completely, with an old house alongside; also, some agricultural machinery. Loss about $2,000. Supposed to have caught from a defective flue in the old building.
